Caplin & Drysdale's Patricia Gimbel Lewis, H. David Rosenbloom, and Richard W. Skillman have each been distinguished with a listing in the "2014 Guide to the World's Leading Tax Advisers," a publication of Expert Guides. The Guide lists the international legal community's top legal practitioners advising on tax law. Ms. Lewis counsels companies regarding various employee benefit plans and controversies, in addition to advice on matters of international taxation and cross-border transfer pricing. Mr. Rosenbloom has consulted with and advised foreign governments and international organizations on international tax matters, and served as an expert witness in international tax disputes in the United States, Canada, and New Zealand. Mr. Skillman represents individual and corporate taxpayers in tax controversies, as well as in tax planning. Moreover, he handles tax issues involving executive compensation and other employee benefits, insurance companies and products, corporate tax, tax accounting, and international tax.
