

Caplin & Drysdale Partners with The Salvation Army

12.04.2012

Throughout the year, Caplin & Drysdale has been a proud contributor of time and money to a variety of charitable and pro bono efforts. In this season of giving, the firm continues its five-year partnership with The Salvation Army's Angel Giving Tree program, which donates thousands of new toys and gifts to disadvantaged children. This year, the firm's employees adopted 30 Angels, providing them with clothing and educational toys. Please visit The Salvation Army's website for more information: www.salvationarmynca.org.
